

GOZIRRA Information Technology Consulting

Take a strategic approach to IT outsourcing and technical support for your business.

For years now, companies have sought to take costs out of business functions and IT overhead through outsourcing. The investment and commitment is usually high, and the terms of your arrangement are typically inflexible. Many organizations, however, are seeking a middle ground between "do-it-yourself" and "sign away the support of your business".

GOZIRRA offers Flexible and Strategic IT outsourcing for Sustained Growth.

We offer a comprehensive array of Managed Service solutions, including:

- *IT Services Management: We can leverage our information technology expertise to create a reliable, secure, and cost-effective technology solution today for your business, complete with solution delivery, monitoring, and ongoing support.
- *Business Consulting Solutions: We can provide a full spectrum of support for your strategic and service delivery needs. These solutions can be seamlessly integrated through our end-to-end offerings, which include IT consulting, systems and technology integration and management, and business process services.
- *Strategic Application Management: We can provide ongoing management of core enterprise applications, such as SAP, Oracle or PeopleSoft, as well as legacy and custom-developed applications.
- *Business Process Management and Staff Augmentation: We can help your business create or outsource to a single, discrete business process system by allowing you to take advantage of GOZIRRA's best practices and scalable capabilities. In short, we can help you lower costs, increase productivity, and improve service delivery performance.

As management and technology consultants, GOZIRRA is highly qualified to operate both complex & integrated IT applications, and to help align critical business functions with the evolving needs of your business. GOZIRRA can deliver an entire solution — covering everything from Level 1 help desk support, to application maintenance, to disaster prevention and recovery. Foremost, your organization benefits by having just a single point of accountability for all your business-related issues, at a predictable, fixed fee.

GOZIRRA's Managed Service solutions can help you:

- * Lower operational costs and improve productivity — Take advantage of economies of scale, with lower costs for greater technology expertise.
- * Reduce risk — Your business will quickly and effectively react to IT issues, the increased complexity of IT applications, and the rapid rate of IT business change.
- * Maintain control of your destiny — You will maintain full control of strategic functions while you have us help you manage a piece of your business.

We look forward to working with you to help drive the growth and success of your business.

Best Regards,
